

Question 725) - A man said, "I am selling you this wheat to the extent that it fills this container." The buyer accepts although he does not know the exact amount the container can hold. Is this valid?

A: The sale of the specified container is valid even if he does not know the exact amount it will contain.

~ al-Quduri ~