

Question 1776) - What if he says, "I have no ownership over you,??

A: If he intended manumission then the slave is free, if not then the slave is not free. The same rule applies to any other non-explicit words of manumission, such as, "you have left my ownership/ I have no authority over you."

~ al-Quduri ~