

Q: 87 ? Title: If some ansar and muhajirin were that much concerned about Khilafat then the burriel arrangements of thier beloved Rasool then how we can say them true muslim because i think the burriel was more important then to appointment of khalifa at once and without any suggestion of majority.

Question

I have read the shitie belief over Khilafat issue at your web. some questions aorse in my mind kindly answer.

1- If some ansar and muhajirin were that much concerned about Khilafat then the burriel arrangements of thier beloved Rasool then how we can say them true muslim because i think the burriel was more important then to appointment of khalifa at once and without any suggestion of majority.

Answer

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful

Assalaamu `alaykum waRahmatullahi Wabarakatuh

- The appointment of the Khalifah was, at that point, more important than the burial.
- Also, whilst the dispute over the next Khalifah continued, some Sahabah were engaged in the burial arrangements.

If some ansar and muhajirin were that much concerned about Khilafat then the burriel arrangements of th

- Furthermore, the immediate appointment of the Khalifah was vital so as to prevent fitnah (social turmoil) within the Ummah.

And Allah knows best

Wassalam

Darul Iftaa, Madrassah In'aamiyyah

?