In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful

Assalaamu `alaykum waRahmatullahi Wabarakatuh

I'm having doubt regarding Malik Ul Mouth name, as my brother mentioned Israeel as Malik ul Mouth,

Some Ulama are of the opinion that the name of the angel of death is Ismail. The great scholar of hadith, Hafidh Ibn Hajar ????? ?????, mentions that this is incorrect, due to a confusion caused in the different wording of the narration. He further mentions that the commonly known view is that his name is Izra'eel. He supports this view by mention two narrations. He comments of the chain of these narrations saying that the narrators are all authentic. However, the chain of transmission ends at Ash'ath ibn Jabir al-Harr'ni, who is from the younger tabi'een. Therefore, the narration is mu'dhal i.e two narrators are missing consecutively.

We can conclude that the name of the angel of death is Izra'eel. This is established from the tabi'oon.

It is of outmost importance that one verifies before narrating any had?th. Severe warnings have been sounded in the Noble Ah?dith regarding one who attributes to any Nabi ??? ????? ?????

?Whoever attributes to me that which I did not say, should built his abode in hell? (Bukhari 110)

Therefore, utmost precaution should be exercised before passing on any had?th.

Also last question is ?Madiha? is good name or not, what is the meaning,

Nabi ??? ????? ????? ????? advised that we keep good names.

The name could be kept as Madʿha (?????) or Mʿdiha (?????). Madʿha means one who is very much praised or praises (Allah Taʿala etc) excessively. Mʿdiha means one who praises (the greatness of Allah Taʿala etc).

The doors of the heavens are open at five times:

1. The time of Azan

The doors of the sky being opened at these times are mentioned in different Ah?d?th. All five are not mentioned in one h?dith.
