Question

1) Can you kindly tell me if the following is correct or not. My ustad (teacher) had a very minor accident. The bill list was given to him to pay as he was at fault. And I don't know if he has money or not but he said this to me, "I have some Zakah money, ill give it to you and then you can pay my bill."

Is that jai'z (permissible)???

2) How heavy can a men's silver ring be up to???

3) Can you please tell me of a dua' that will help in my bad temper.

4) I since a young age wanted to become a muhaddith and a hafiz, can you tell me of a dua which I can read that may support my memory and that may help what I have learnt in the past strong.

5) I am very concerned about my older brothers who are not good Muslims. Can you make dua for them and tell me of an effective was to give them Da'wah.

6) My non Muslim friend said that religion is old now and its modern time now so why is it necessary nowadays? But he believes very briefly that there is a god. So how I answer his question.

7) Last but not least, my female teacher said why do you keep your eyes down? I know it's for haya and the Quran states us before the women, so what can I say to her.???She is keen to learn more about the beauty of Islam.....may Allah taa'la give me hidayaah and her. Please make dua for I am the weakest of all.

Answer

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful

Assalaamu `alaykum waRahmatullahi Wabarakatoh

1. What is meant by Zakat money? Does he have to discharge his personal Zakat? Did somebody give him Zakat money for himself or to distribute?

2. It is not permissible to have a silver ring heavier than 4.373 g. A ruler, judge, or an official may use a ring as seal. That will be Sunnah for them. For others, it will be merely mubaah (permissible).

On a Thursday night, wake up in the last portion of the night. If the last portion is difficult, then wake up the middle of the night. If that too is difficult, then the first portion of the night. Perform four rakat in such a manner that in the first rakah you recite Surah Al-Fatiha and Surah Yaseen. In the second rakah Surah Al-Fatiha and Surah Al-Dukhan. In the third rakah Surah Al-Fatiha and Al-Sajdah. In the fourth rakah Al-Fatiha and Surah Al-Mulk. After completing the Salah praise Allah and send salutations upon Rasullah (Sallallahu Alaihi Wasallam) and the rest of the Prophets. Ask for forgiveness for all the Muslims and all those who passed away with Iman. Then at the end recite the following dua:

(Tirmidhi Chapter Dua for Hifz)

5. Inshallah we will keep brothers in our duas. You should give your brothers dawah in a gentle way. Do not be too harsh on them. The best dawah is by showing them good character. Actions speak louder than words. Be kind to them and remember them in your duas in all occasions. Try taking them to gatherings where lectures about Islam are conducted or make them participate in effort Tabligh Jamat.

6. Religion is not a fashion that it becomes old upon passing of time and is discarded. Islam is way of life. Allah Ta'ala is the Creator of mankind and has infinite knowledge. He chose Islam to be the accepted religion till the Day of Judgment. Allah did not choose this religion only for a certain era or group of people, but instead Islam it a universal religion for all people no matter what their race and for all times not matter how developed they become materialistically. These “modern times” do not affect Islam and its teachings in anyway. The purpose of Islam is not to become developed in the material world (nor does it discourage from it), but its purpose is to recognize Allah and worship Him, and live out our lives in a manner Allah has ordered us to. Your friend says he believes briefly that there is a god. The quality of God is that he is All Wise and All Knowing. Therefore he has to believe that if a religion is accepted in God’s eyes for the people till the Day of Judgment, then verily it will be practiced upon in every era.

7. It is very good you lower your gazes from you female teacher. May Allah Ta’ala give you steadfastness on your actions. Tell her that these are the teachings of Islam. Islam teaches us to have modesty and that a person should lower his gazes from strangers of the opposite gender. If she is keen on learning more about Islam, you can give her a book on the teachings of Islam for example “What is Islam?” By Maulana Manzoor Nomani. You can also tell her to visit the womenfolk in your family so they may explain more about Islam.

And Allah knows best

Wassalam
