

Q: 28 – Title: I am a female living in Jeddah. I performed umra but forgot to trim my hair at the end of it. As soon as I returned home to Jeddah I remembered and cut my hair. Is my umra valid. Any compensation?

Question

I am a female living in Jeddah. I performed umra but forgot to trim my hair at the end of it. As soon as I returned home to Jeddah I remembered and cut my hair. Is my umra valid. Any compensation? Jazakallahu Khair.

Answer

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful

Assalaamu `alaykum waRahmatullahi Wabarakatoh

It is necessary for a person coming out from the state of ihram to cut the hair within the haram. Not doing so will render a dam (sacrifice of a goat or sheep) compulsory upon the individual.

The person will be considered to have been in the state of ihram until the cutting of the hair. If any act against the sanctity of ihram occurs, then the appropriate compensation will have to be given (sacrifice of an animal for a major act and charity for a minor act.) Nevertheless, the 'umra is valid.
