Question 24) - What do the Jurists say about Wudu made from a body of water in which impurity fell?

A: If the body is so large that its one side does not vibrate through the shaking of the other side, Wudu is permissible from the other side when impurity falls in one side. That is because it is apparent that the impurity does not reach the other side due to its distance from the side where the impurity fell.

~ al-Quduri ~