Will Ghusl be Necessary when Sperm is? Injected into the Womb?

Q: Miss-12: Will Ghusl be compulsory for a woman when sperm is injected into her womb via the vagina?

Answer: When a Woman is aroused by the injection, she should perform Ghusl. If there was no arousal, no Ghusl will be necessary, but it will be best to perform Ghusl in the interests of caution. Because there is a greater possibility of arousal if the procedure is carried out by a doctor or the husband. Ghusl will need to be made. (It is however totally Haraam for a doctor to carry this out). In the case of necessity, none but the husband may carry out the procedure. And Allaah knows best what is most correct.
