

Question 709) - What is the ruling if a defect afflicts the Hady which prevents its validity for slaughter?

A: If it is Wajib Hady then he must slaughter a substitute and may do with the defective one what he wants to. If it is a voluntary Hady then he should slaughter it despite the defect.

~ al-Quduri ~