

Question 1589) - If he says to a stranger, "If you enter the house you are divorced." He then marries her and she enters the house. Does the divorce fall?

A: No divorce takes place. It can only occur after the fulfilment of the condition if he "owned" the woman in terms of marriage rights at the time of making the oath or it is attributed to ownership.

~ al-Quduri ~